

The Chelsea International Photography Competition — Opens August 21, 2018

Photographers are invited to enter the second annual Chelsea International Photography Competition. With a fierce dedication to promoting the arts and discovering and exposing new talent, the CIPC will honor selected artists with an exhibition at Agora Gallery, providing invaluable exposure to promote career growth and boost recognition.

Competition awards are valued at over $55,000 and designed specifically to support Agora's mission: to promote extraordinary and innovative art in the modern world, and enhance the careers of the selected artists. Selected photographers will participate in the collective exhibition and receive valuable PR opportunities.

The 2018 Chelsea International Photography Competition is accepting entries now through October 9. Results are announced on November 6, 2018, with the competition exhibition scheduled for February 20 - 28, 2019.

Ready to enter for the chance to exhibit in New York City?

Visit agora-gallery.com/competition/photography for competition details and instructions on how to enter.

You can also contact us at competition@agora-gallery.com or on Facebook.

